President's Report

Cindi Brown, CI & CT

It is with sadness that I share with you that Lynette Jones, PARID's CMP Coordinator, passed away on August 3, 2013. Lynette served a crucial role in ensuring that your CEUs were processed and submitted to RID in a timely fashion. She worked diligently behind the scenes for years to support the professional development of interpreters, PARID, and District 7. Thank you, Lynette, for your years of service!

Stephanie Ellison has been appointed as the interim CMP Coordinator. She is working with RID to ensure that all of your CEUs have been and will be processed. If you submitted paperwork to Lynette for sponsored workshops or PINRAs from May until August and your CEUs are not on your RID transcript yet, please contact Stephanie Ellison at cmp@parid.org to verify that all of your paperwork is in order. For future PINRA and sponsored workshop requests, contact cmp@parid.org. To apply for the position of CMP Coordinator, send your letter of interest and resume to vicepresident@parid.org by September 30, 2013.

We are transitioning all of PARID's membership information to a new membership database called Wild Apricot. This is an online database that will allow members to join on-line, register for events on-line, and the PARID board to communicate with the membership in a more streamlined fashion. The transition will soon be complete.

We have been planning for the 2014 PARID Conference. The conference will be held at the Seven Springs Mountain Resort in Seven Springs, PA on April 25 – 26, 2014 with the board meeting being on Thursday April 24, 2014. This is a great facility with many activities to keep your family busy while you focus on your professional development. The call for presenters, interpreters, and support staff are on the PARID website at www.parid.org/parid-conference. Consider submitting an application or send the information onto the presenter for a fabulous workshop you would like to see at the conference. You can also volunteer to assist with the conference by contacting conference@parid.org.

I traveled to Indianapolis to the RID business meeting! Even after a delayed start due to technical difficulties, all of the motions submitted prior to the conference were discussed and voted on. You can find a summary of the disposition of each motion on the PARID website. RID is asking members to consider what you are able to do to improve the organization and the profession of interpreting. What are you able to do as an individual and together with your colleagues for RID, PARID, and your District? Please let us know how you would like to assist!

Vice President's Report

Beth Setley, CI & CT, Ed:K-12, AOPC

Well, school is back in session and it is a very busy time for everyone.

I trust all the PARID members who went to the RID Convention enjoyed themselves and learned a lot. I know there were many informative and helpful workshops.

On September 24, 2013 the PARID Board of Directors met at the Geisinger-Bloomsburg Hospital. One of the topics of discussion was in regards to the fact that PARID is no longer issuing membership cards. However, any member who desires a membership card can receive one by contacting Courtney Tarselli, Corresponding Secretary, at membership@parid.org and request one. The Board is also in the process of reviewing and updating of all of the Policy and Procedure Manuals. This is an effort to ensure continuity for future Board members.

Brian Smith, Kelly Deibert and I are working on establishing a Distinguished Service Award. Our committee will also be working to submit a plan to the board to establish a scholarship for certification testing. Work on these items is scheduled to be completed and functional by 2014. More information and details will be announced in the near future.

The SWAP Program is a membership benefit that allows members to earn CEUs or just broaden their professional horizons, all from the comfort of their own home! You are encouraged to utilize this valuable resource by contacting the SWAP Coordinator, Sandy Robinson, at srobinson86@comcast.net. You can also send Sandy workshop suggestions for consideration. A full list of WWWshops that PARID owns can be viewed at www.parid.org. Recently the offerings of the SWAP program were reviewed and

Corresponding Secretary

Courtney Tarselli

Hello to all PARID members from your Corresponding Secretary, Courtney Tarselli! In the last newsletter, I was greeting you all by saying “It’s starting to get hot out there” and now, if you can believe it, summer is just about coming to an end. Soon it will be time for apple cider, pumpkins and everything Fall!

We’re full swing into our 2013-2014 membership year and so far, I’m happy to report, renewing your memberships with our new database has gone smoothly. As previously stated, PARID has discontinued issuing membership cards to its members. If you feel strongly about having a membership card, please contact me at membership@parid.org and arrangements can be made.

PARID recently had its quarterly board meeting and I know that our district representatives are working hard to put together some great seminars for everyone, taking into consideration the feedback they’ve received from you, the members. Let’s continue to make this a great year for PARID.

As of August 31, 2013, there are total of 357 members. This is a decrease in membership from 388 since last reported on April 27, 2013. However, I’m still receiving membership renewals on a daily basis.

As always, I’m happy to report on information regarding PARID’s membership. May we continue to grow and develop as an organization whose primary goal is to promote the profession of interpreting and transliterating American Sign Language and English.

Shane Feldman, R.I.D. president, presented an informational session hosted by DHCC (Deaf Hearing Communication Centre). Pictured are the workshop attendees. PARID President, Cindi Brown, Recording Secretary, Brian Smith, and Treasurer, Maribel Escarfullery met with Mr. Feldman to discuss interpreting issues in Pennsylvania.

Professional Development Everywhere!

Danielle Filip, NIC Advanced, District 2 Representative

I cannot believe that the summer is over! It has been a busy summer for me, full of conferences and professional development. Since I have only been PARID District 2 representative for 25 days (as of the writing of this article) I will let you all know what I have been up to this summer, how it applies to the profession, and give each of you some food for thought.

Before the official start of summer, I attended the NAJIT (National Association of Judiciary Interpreters and Translators) conference in May in St. Louis. There I had the opportunity to take an abbreviated version of a workshop which focused on improving one's ability to interpret for non-native English speakers. The presenter was an ASL interpreter himself and was engaging and knowledgeable. I am working with the presenter to bring the full day workshop to Pittsburgh in January – stay tuned for details!

Then in June I attended the Interpret America Summit in Reston, VA. The attendees at the conference were a mix of spoken language interpreters and ASL interpreters. I was one of only five ASL interpreters, but it did not matter, both groups can learn so much from each other. The focus of the conference was on technology and how it is shaping our work and changing the marketplace. And technology at the summit was amazing! Social media was used, in addition to live streaming, to include participants who were unable to be on site. It was fascinating to see the flurry of activity from those who were taking time to be involved even though they were not present in the conference rooms. These people were involved because they care about the direction the field of interpreting is going, not because they were getting CEUs. Their ability to be engaged was made true, thanks to technology and visionary leaders who embraced the change! This was not the only "wow" moment for me, the second was the family style lunch, a wonderful chance to engage in conversation with people from all over the world. Thanks to the family style food service dynamic, unless you talked to the person next to you or across from you, you were not eating. I brought home business cards, but I did not throw these into that drawer we all have, you know the one, where business cards go to die... Instead I emailed each person and followed up on our conversations and have continued to communicate with these people, our peers, from all aspects of interpreting all over the world. I came home refreshed and energized. (I think everyone should go next year! It's going to be in an international location, yet to be announced!) Take away: do something different than you're used to and see what you can learn. What have you done outside your comfort zone recently?

In August, it was off to Indianapolis for the RID 50th Anniversary Conference. The quote "Interpreters will never be replaced by technology. They will be replaced by interpreters who know how to use technology," from the Interpret America Summit continued to ring true for me at this conference. Our world is changing – it is not something that we should fear, instead it is something that we should embrace – we need to hold on tightly (to the world that is, not our old tired ways). Attending the board forums, workshops and networking with interpreters at the conference assured me that our future is bright, though the journey to get there is long and winding and bumpy and sometimes visibility is limited or cluttered, we will continue to march on together. Know that the leadership in place is ready for the next steps and are believers in change; you should know also that they value communication. If you have not yet done so, please watch the various interviews that StreetLeverage conducted during the conference (<http://www.streetleverage.com/2013/07/RIDIndy/>). Also, search twitter for #RID2013 and look back on all that was contributed to the social media coverage of the event.

Professional Development Everywhere!

As I see it, based on my summer's events two things are true; first, the world is becoming increasingly smaller, we need to work together to make the most of it and learn from our peers (spoken language too!) and second, social media and technology are here to stay and are making us dig deep to determine how we are going to provide service in the future.

As we move into the fall season, just like the trees will, let us drop our old leaves and prepare to grow new for if we keep the same leaves we will be but a silk plant, and end up covered in dust.

Motion # 2013 – 23: That the official language of the Annual Meeting will be American Sign Language. Accommodations will be provided for those wishing to use spoken English. These accommodations will be determined by the person needing accommodations and the conference committee. Spoken interpretation will be conducted by an FM system. Other options may include open captioning, and low volume interpreting in a designated area.

Rationale: As professionals and practitioners ASL/English interpretation, we should be showing our value and respect for ASL by conducting our organizational business in ASL. It provides open communication access and a show of respect to the community we serve. By communicating in the language we strengthen our use of it, and it benefits newer interpreters and students by immersing them in the Language. We should be providing an environment that enhances where ASL is to be used and improved.

Fiscal Impact: The exact fiscal impact will depend upon the need for services. The approximate cost of CART services is $450 plus hotel, travel, and meals. The approximate cost of interpreters for an annual meeting is $369 plus hotel, travel, and meals. The annual meeting already uses interpreters so the only additional cost might be for the CART services or another accommodation.
